WELCOME TO THE NEW OFFICES AT CREMON 32, HAMBURG

After a productive and enjoyable 5 years at our last offices in Hamburg, it was time for us to say goodbye to Katharinenstraße and walk the 100m west to our new abode at Cremon 32. Based in the same building as our partners at Nordic Hamburg Shipmanagement, our new offices offer us a larger surface and a more modern feel. On 14th June 2024 many colleagues chipped in to help relocate and we have the pictures to show for it! Thank you to all who helped us install in our new home!

Honoring the EJ Crew!

Every year on June 25th, the world comes together to celebrate the Day of the Seafarer. However, at Jacob Shipping, we believe that one day is never enough to express our gratitude to our dedicated crew. Established by the International Maritime Organization (IMO) in 2010, this day honours the vital role these unsung heroes play in keeping global goods and commodities flowing, often under demanding conditions. We acknowledge that our seafarers are central to both our operations and the global economy and take this opportunity to thank them for their constant work and dedication.

Seafarers are the backbone of global trade, with over 90% of the world's commerce transported by sea. From the fuel in our vehicles to the food on our plates and the clothes we wear, it is the commitment and hard work of seafarers like those at Jacob Shipping that enable us to enjoy a high quality of life.

Life at sea comes with its own set of difficulties. Seafarers face prolonged periods away from their loved ones, isolation, severe weather conditions, and the constant threat of piracy and other dangers. The COVID-19 pandemic further underscored these challenges, as many were stranded on ships for months beyond their contracts due to port closures and travel restrictions. These hardships have sparked a global conversation about the need to enhance working conditions and provide better mental health support for seafarers. At Jacob Shipping, we are committed to assisting our crew through these adversities by advocating for improved industry standards and offering resources and training for mental well-being.

Numerous initiatives have been launched to support seafarers and address the difficulties they encounter. Organizations such as the Mission to Seafarers, Seafarers' Welfare and Assistance Network (SWAN), and the International Transport Workers' Federation (ITF) offer essential services, including healthcare, legal support, and mental health assistance.

Looking ahead, the maritime sector is set for significant changes driven by technological progress and the pursuit of sustainability. Innovations such as autonomous ships, digital navigation systems, and eco-friendly fuel alternatives are poised to revolutionize the industry. At Jacob Shipping, we are dedicated to being at the forefront of these advancements, improving safety, minimizing environmental impact, and enhancing the overall efficiency of our maritime operations.

Day of the Seafarer—Honoring the EJ Crew

We remain unwavering in our commitment to supporting our seafarers every day, recognizing their invaluable contributions to our company, the maritime industry, and the world. We are proud of our crew and their dedication, and we strive to ensure they feel valued and appreciated throughout the year.

Peter Gast Shipping Regatta 2024—Managing Director participates

What once began as a private competition for a few shipping merchants has developed over the years into an important event in the maritime industry. More than 110 yachts and over 1,000 participants met on the Danish island of Ærø at the 41st Peter Gast Shipping Regatta to exchange culinary delights and interesting discussions on current topics in the shipping industry. Our Managing Director / Fleet Manager Peter Juul Christensen was fortunate to participate and shared his following experience:

It was again an honour to participate in the Peter Gast 41st Schiffahrtsregatta onboard sailing boat Bonito hired by ABS. 120 sailing boats with more than 1.000 participants, could enjoy nice weather with fair winds on their way from Schleimünde, DE to beautiful Ærøskøbing, DK.

Special thanks to ABS / Mr. Dietrich Dabels for arranging the trip, to our Captain Lars Steen for making the trip safe (only 20 sec to third place - well done) and the rest of our great team for making an amazing atmosphere during the weekend.

A thanks to Peter Gast Shipping for making once again a great event.

We are looking forward to seeing you next year again.
